

Users and Screeners Association
“The FEPP Professional – A Steward for the American Taxpayer”

January 15, 2010

Dear folks,

We welcome you to the 19th Annual Users and Screeners Association – Federal Excess Personal Property Professional Development Workshop to be held in Sacramento, CA March 22- 25 at the Doubletree Hotel.

This is a continuation of the 2009 USA-FEPP Workshop and Conference that was cancelled due to budget cuts and a general lack of operating capital for most state and federal agencies. “Maximizing GSA – Property Resources” – is the theme for this year’s workshop. Maximizing GSA’s resources to augment federal programs, projects and extramural activities through the use of federal excess property is our best means of support as the country continues to balance its economic challenges.

This year, we have scheduled a series of experienced and knowledgeable speakers/presenters on the ever-changing GSA activities, such as the GSAXcess updates with live web-based access and searching for specific equipment online. Institutions can maximize the use of FEPP programs while maintaining austerity controls.

It is our goal to ensure each participant will have an opportunity to further engage with GSA and its affiliate agencies while maintaining accurate accountability and control on property acquired.

Please see the workshop agenda at the USA website. You can also find a link to hotel information and accommodations at:

The Doubletree can also be reached via phone at 1-916-929-8855; use Group Code—USE for USA rates.

We look forward to your participation in this workshop to engage with others from the various agencies and institution. We hope to help you have success stories of utilizing the federal excess property programs.
